The Mason LINE

by Chas Mason

As we write this we are leisurely reclining under the trees in our back yard (on this gorgeous Sunday afternoon.) We wonder just a bit why we are planning a trip to Montana later this summer. Not too smart, but then we don't lay claim to brilliance. As our 11 year old hopeful was saying the other day, "Dad, those new Buicks are sure pretty, but then we need a new Buick about as much as another hole in the hood."

—ML—

Speaking of vacations — we spent some time last summer in the Snowy Range of the Medicine Bow National Forest near Laramie, Wyoming. The announcement just came over the radio that a huge forest fire is out of control in that area, undoubtedly caused by a careless smoker.

Not a pleasant thought to think of that beautiful spruce timber destroyed because of someone's carelessness. Too bad we can't have radar in the forests to snag those careless fools as well as on the highway!

—ML—

We heard a little story the other day that the gals should enjoy.

A lady tourist was about to have her picture taken in front of some Aztec ruins.

"Don't get the car in the picture," said she, "or my husband will think I caused the damage."

—ML—

We suppose auto race drivers weigh the monetary reward, glory and thrills involved in participating in that sport against the odds of dying in a crash-up, but it hardly seems logical to us. As a spectator sport it just doesn't measure up either, in our humble opinion.

—ML—

Speaking of racing, get your insurance agent to give you one of those "Speed Kills, Take it Easy" signs and paste in on your bumper. It might serve as a reminder to some halfwit who is in too much of a hurry that at least you aren't a member of his zany fraternity.

CHAMBER PROFIT SAGS AS RODEO EXPENSES TOP EXPECTATIONS

Unexpected expenses cut the profit on the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce sponsored rodeo down to about $100, it was announced last week by chamber president Robert Swenson.

It was originally thought that about $1,000 would have been netted. The sum was to have been used to pay the wages of a chamber manager.

Dr. Swenson said other methods would be examined to get a paid manager.

Items which contributed to the low profit level included failure to sell as much advertising in the rodeo booklet as the previous year; several hundred dollars taxes on ticket sales, and cost of an all expense trip to Las Vegas for two, which was the door prize.

HAROLD'S BICYCLE HAS BEEN STOLEN

Most everybody in Lemon Grove knows Harold Neinst. He works at the Grove Bakery in the early mornings, and helps out in the sheriff's sub-station at Luther Hussey's Justice Court.

The sole support of his aged mother, Harold depended on the jobs he got as messenger to augment his income. For this job he used his bike.

Last week his bike was stolen. It is believed to be the work of pranksters rather than for monetary gain because it isn't much of a bike.

Harold needs the bike desperately, however. If anyone knows of the whereabouts of it, please call either this newspaper or get in touch with the owner at the bakery, or at the sheriff's office.

Planned Programs Set for Men's Club

A series of planned programs will be scheduled at the Lemon Grove Men's Club it was decided by Bert Betts, club president.

Members are being scheduled to provide programs of general interest and these members will become program chairmen for that day.

The schedule for the next four weeks is:

July 15—Ray Purtee
July 22—James Pearce
July 29—Andy Anderson
August 5—Judge Luther Hussey

Water Rate Increase Seen as Preliminary Budget Tops Two Million Dollars

Water users and taxpayers of this irrigation district will be facing increased rates for water or taxes—or both—unless the board of directors can find ways to trim more than $500,000 from the preliminary budget submitted to it Monday.

The budget, submitted by business manager Byron M. Miller, includes substantially the amounts requested by various department heads, and totals $2,174,220. This is $207,271 more than last year's preliminary budget, which was cut by $363,000 by the board during the budget meetings a year ago. Last year's budget was $1,583,563.

Miller warned the board in his letter submitting the budget that it would be necessary to "eliminate a sizeable amount of the proposed expenditures or increase water rates, or increase taxes—or adopt a combination of all three steps." He urged that the board adopt a "balanced budget" to avoid "unmanageable financial problems."

That the board will have more difficulty in making cuts similar to those made in last year's budget was seen in Miller's detail list of major items which are higher in this year's preliminary budget than in last year's.

Largest item of increase is for construction projects, primarily pipelines, $326,395. These represent largely improvements, replacements and enlargements which have been repeatedly postponed in prior years, Miller said. Increasing growth of population of the district and resultant increased demand for water service make further postponement of this work unlikely, he said.

Second largest increase is for "meters and services." Large part of the $107,543 increase here is for connecting old El Cajon Valley water service to the new lines being built as part of the El Cajon Valley Irrigation district project. Approximately 1200 present customers of the district will have to be connected to the new, larger water lines, Miller said. Third largest increase is for purchase and storage of water—an increase of $103,737 over last year. This increase is anticipated because of the continued drought, making it necessary for the district to buy larger portions of its water from the San Diego County Water Authority, and some of it from the City of San Diego at a premium rate.

Miller's report predicts 1000 new water connections in the "old" irrigation district, and 750 in the El Cajon Valley annex, an increase in water sales revenues of $36,000. This would bring water revenues back to a figure higher than the year 1953-54, before Rolando was separated from the district to annex to the city of San Diego. Miller pointed out that increased revenues from water sales in the annexed El Cajon Valley area would approach higher figures toward the end of the fiscal year. Anticipated water revenue is $1,129,074.00.

Assessed valuation of land within the district on which the new tax rate will be levied is $21,844,289, according to figures submitted by James L. Squire, assessor collector. This is an increase of $2,992,945 over last year, the increase representing slightly less than the assessed value of the El Cajon Valley annexation, which is valued at $3,094,455. Without the annexations, the valuation would have dropped, due to loss of the Rolando area.

The board began its budget studies concurrent with its meetings each day for two weeks as a board of equalization. On the first day, one protest of property value assessment was received and taken under advisement. It was from Edwin L. Kokko, of El Cajon.

HILLTOP CHATEAU PLANS OPEN HOUSE IN EXPANSION PROGRAM

The operators of Hilltop Chateau, 6970 Central Avenue, have taken over the property formerly owned by the Dr. Charles William Brown family and have converted it into residence for retired people. The Brown property is at 2211 Massachusetts. Mr. and Mrs. Eric Fountaine, formerly of Lemon Grove, will be resident managers. Mrs. Fountaine is a registered nurse and was in the employ of Dr. Wesley Herbert for a number of years.

Seven years ago Mr. and Mrs. Merle Garber, co-partners with the Bird Garrett family, started the Hilltop Chateau, a residence for retired people, in the former home of Murray Smith. They had room for seven guests. Within five years, by building two unit cottages, around the large French Provincial house, they provided homes for 30 guests.

A maze of patios and gardens full of flowers and trees and shrubs attracted many persons. Satisfied temporary guests became permanent residents, and Lemon Grove gained a large number of substantial "Senior Citizens."

Hilltop Chateau reached its capacity, but the demand for its special type of gracious living continued. The Garbers then acquired the Brown property and the central unit is now ready for occupancy. They have named it Monte Vista Lodge, for the view of the mountains is superb.

Open house will be held all day Sunday. Visitors to Monte Vista Lodge are also welcome to visit Hilltop Chateau, just a few blocks away.

Girl Scouts Take Over Youth Center Area

The annual Girl Scout Day Camp for this area is being held at the Lemon Grove Youth Center, Tuesdays through Fridays, through July 15. Three neighborhoods have participated: Lemon Grove, Oak-Nell and Monterey Heights.

The staff was as follows: director, Mrs. H. Hersh; assistant director and leader of the Ramblers Unit, Mrs. Richard Hicks; program chairman, Mrs. Ruth Johnston; business manager, Mrs. Humburg; games, Mrs. R. J. Whitmore; Adventure Unit, Mrs. A. Denlinger and Mrs. Walforth; Trees Unit, Mrs. Ed McCormick; Indian Unit, Mmes. Wright and Lincoln; Gypsy Unit, Mmes. Rios and Hand; Cowboy Unit, Mmes. Booth and Pierce.

Proficiency badges were earned and awarded during the camp. All girls entering the fifth grade participated in the program that was set up to include the requirements for Second Class badges.

As part of the summer program, the Intermediate Scouts and accompanying adults went on an overnight camp trip to Green Valley Falls, July 13. This was one of the high peaks in Girl Scouting for this group this year.

Grove Men Claim Share of 25 Million Dollar Treasure Trove

Thaddeus and Francis Sledzinski . . . at the end of the trail is $25,000,000.00.

By MAX GOODWIN

There's a treasure trail leading to Lemon Grove with a 25 million dollar rainbow at one end of it for Francis and Thaddeus Sledzinski, two brothers, who live at 6810 Broadway.

The huge fortune is presently stored in a Canadian museum with an international battle raging for possession of it.

The treasure consists of royal gems and jewels, gold and silver smuggled out of Poland before the communists took over the country.

This unbelievable treasure trove dates back to the 17th century when it belonged to the rulers of that country. As various nations overran Poland, it was moved from time to time, and when the communists sacked the country the valuables were smuggled to Canada. The Sledzinski brothers claim it through their mother, now dead, the Princess Filomena Wojciechowska who now lies buried in Lemon Grove where Broadway and College Avenues intersect.

In addition to Francis and Thaddeus Sledzinski, there are others who have a claim to the vast fortune. There are 13 in all. Thaddeus Sledzinski says. There's another brother, Edward, who lives in La Mesa, two sisters, Mrs. Caroline Debonne of San Diego and Mrs. James Goddard of Los Angeles. There is only one other survivor who claims the title of princess. She is an aunt who lives in New York City.

The Sledzinski brothers are both employed as supervisors of the food service department of the U. S. Naval Hospital in San Diego. Francis is a bachelor but Thaddeus is married to a pretty, blue eyed Polish girl named Josephine. She is a refugee from the communists' heel of aggression.

According to Francis, a search of all available records is now being made so that the fortune may be legally recovered.

"It looks promising," he said, "but there is much searching to be done. Much of the historical proof was destroyed when the nazis bombed and burned Warsaw. Most of what was left was destroyed by the communists."

"Our great-grandfather had seven palaces from time to time in various locations in Poland. We hope to unearth positive proof of our right to the family treasure through search of the areas of these palaces," Francis said.

"Poland was overrun by Ger-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

It seems there are some individuals in this area who do not realize our problems. I would like to relate the following to you, as it was told to me by one of Lemon Grove's most prominent citizens. It is entitled:

"I had a dream."

The other night, I was pondering these problems before retiring. They kept coming back to me, as I lay trying to go to sleep. Well, I had a dream and to my amazement the problems became a reality. This is what I saw in my dreams—

I was returning from San Diego and before my eyes the present Broadway was changing into a beautiful street, 150 feet wide, with curbs and sidewalks, beautiful stores, some two and three stories in height, the pavement was perfect. I proceeded on to Broadway and Main and from there, on around the whole community. I noticed curbs and sidewalks in all the business districts. The idle land had all been built up.

Over by the First National Bank's new building were nice two story department stores. There was J. C. Penney's, May Company and several others. This was a well planned and executed piece of work. The parking problems had been solved. The right of way along the railway tracks was paved, providing a lot of parking space for the merchants. Continuing on down Imperial Avenue, the old junk auto had been removed from the lot at Davidson and Main Streets and both Main and Imperial had been widened and one way traffic was moving along smoothly, and that crosswalks were in the necessary places, for the safety of pedestrians.

So, I wandered on toward the residential district and I found that there too the streets had been curbed, well paved and clean, and the people out on their lawns were commenting on the difference, making comparisons with the present and the past. Yes, the town was really spruced up.

Now this was in direct contrast to what I had seen the night before. Well, I continued to go through the community, and was surprised at everything I saw. We had a nice industrial district, between Broadway and the new freeway, we had a beautiful park and swimming pool down near the Pearce Manor. THIS was really a surprise.

I was very well pleased with my community, in that we had been able to clean up the town and make such drastic changes. THIS I thought, took a lot of cooperation from the people of the area. Yes, I slept on until the alarm awakened me at 7:15.

Naturally, I rushed to the window and— but it was only a dream after all. Here was the same old familiar scene. The building in the 7000 block on Broadway, still trying to fall down. Shanty town was still with us, weeds along the railroad tracks, no curbs, no walks, no park, the same old junk at Davidson and Main streets, no industrial district, no freeway, no swimming pool, the same old look up by the packing sheds, the same old dirty streets everywhere—there had been no improvements to speak of since the horse and buggy days and the people who are big landowners, subdividers and developers, sit back and say, "We have no problems."

Now, I ask you, "Shall we go back to the horse and buggy days? Do we want to see progress and want to see improvements?" Maybe you too, have a dream, maybe I am having one, but I say to you, "Let us look forward and let's get together and accomplish the dreams we have had. This can be done, if we work together, pool our ideas and thoughts and go forward with the times. Let us all get into the thick of it and perhaps some day we too can sit back and say, I helped in my own small way to make Lemon Grove a fine community to live in—and can say it with pride."

The response to the invitation to join the new Lemon Grove Boosters Club, in last week's Review, was most gratifying. But, keep those letters and cards coming. The more who take an interest in their Lemon Grove, the easier the task becomes.

To become a member, send your name, address and telephone number to P. O. Box 42, or 146, Lemon Grove, Calif.

CAFE OPERATOR DIES IN CRASH

Mrs. Blanche Gwendolyn Davenport, 7983 Broadway, died last week when her auto veered off a curve on Highway 94 in Campo and struck a large boulder and utility pole.

Her passenger, Mrs. Fredah Ardery of San Diego, was seriously injured.

Mrs. Davenport was manager of the Sunkist Cafe in Lemon Grove for the cafe's owner, William Sandberg. She was in Campo to manage the Lone Pine Lodge for a woman who is ill. The accident occurred north of the entrance of Rancho del Campo (formerly Mitchell Army Hospital). The coroner's office said Mrs. Davenport died of head injuries.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Faye Petri of Kansas City. Funeral services were handled by Conrad Mortuary followed by interment.

NEW SHOPPING CENTER TO BE CALLED COLLEGE GROVE

"College Grove" has been chosen for the name of the multi-million dollar shopping center planned by George Scott on College Avenue near Broadway he said Wednesday.

He said that his staff had been working closely with a staff of the City Planning Commission and that zoning requests would be made probably next week and hearings dates would be set at that time.

Penney's will also occupy part of the project. Present plans call for it to be the largest store in their chain.

TWO GROVE MEN AT WORLD LIONS CONVENTION

Two Lemon Grove Lions, Harold Holaday and Clarence Milbrodt were among 21,000 other Lions attending the 38th annual international convention at Atlantic City last week.

The organization elected a Chilean as president. Holaday operates an auto repair business. Milbrodt is manager of the local Piggy Wiggly.

The Dimmer VIEW

By MAX GOODWIN

When a weekly editor has nothing else to write about he usually reveals the contents of his mailbox. This is not always an easy task because his choice often runs to as many as 100 letters per day. Some of them are business and confidential. Others are informational, complimentary or complaining types.

Probably the most direct communication I ever received was written thusly:

However, much of our mail holds a little more general interest than that. A few which crossed my desk this week are reproduced here, mostly for your amusement . . . certainly not because of any educational motives of mine. Here they are:

Dear Sir: Rec'd your statement for subscription which I never ordered. If the paper did come in the mail it was never opened, it would have been chucked in the waste basket. Don't ever send me another statement. If I remember, you tried the same thing a year ago.

CARR'S CORNER

Over the Fourth, our thoughts naturally turned to FREEDOM and we found that we were freer than most. A small store certainly has the jump on the big fellows. When something needs doing, we are free to do it and right now. We do not have to submit it to a Main Office or a General Manager or to the Board of This or That.

First, a little while back, Mrs. Van Zeel and Arnold, our loyal friends and customers, spied a marvelous electric coffee urn in Better Homes and, woman-like, they wanted one, and quickly. Nobody had one in California so we got right after the factory. Then the truck strike struck US and we bombarded the factory, shippers, et al and soon ended up, or rather our customers did, with the first of those urns to reach California! As a reward for our good conduct, they ordered another which is on the way.

We confess that we enjoy this life. It is a fine thing to be free and to do what you want—and to get a pat on the back for it! Nobody tells us to push an article. We don't "sell" anything in modern parlance. We just wrap up what our customer wants, only offering a suggestion when asked. Have you noticed how clean and shining Broadway is becoming these days? We asked everyone to help keep it clean and everyone did. We thank one and all and know that it will continue to grow cleaner and cleaner until the glare hurts our eyes and we shall have to ask everyone to stop.

Grossmont Hospital To Be Dedicated July 24

Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, California state director of public health, will be guest speaker at Grossmont Hospital Sunday afternoon, July 24, when dedication ceremonies are held. R. Marvin Jackson, president of the hospital district, announced.

Dr. Merrill said in his acceptance letter: "It will be a real honor to accept your invitation. It also will be a pleasure to see your hospital, about which I have heard very favorable comment."

The program will be in front of the hospital, north of Highway 80, at the eastern edge of La Mesa. Burton Jones, one of the original board members of the district, will be master of ceremonies. Music will be provided by a band from Grossmont High School, under the direction of Benton Minor.

The 108-bed hospital will be open for inspection during the week after dedication, mornings for doctors, and afternoons, 2 to 5, for the public. Actual opening to receive patients has been tentatively for August 15. Some delay in final completion will be caused by the interruption of work in the plumbing trades, Louis M. Peelyon, administrator, told the board.

A schedule of charges has been adopted by the board. Basic rates will be $15 per day for four-bed ward accommodations; $18 for two-bed semi-private room. Charges for obstetrics care will be $85 for three days in ward, $94 for three days in two-bed room. Five days in ward will be $115, $130 for two-bed room. There is a $4 per day charge for nursery care for the baby. The hospital will also offer rooming-in service, permitting the baby to remain in the room with the mother, where it is specified by both doctor and patient. This service requires use of a private room.

'HARD TIMES' HIT 'DANCIN' DUDES'

A genuine "hard times" square dance party will be given Friday by the Dancin' Dudes. Dancers may come dressed as they please, and be as comfortable as possible.

Juan Frank will call. The affair will be held at St. John of the Cross Recreation Hall at the rodeo grounds. Everyone is welcome. Refreshments will be served. Dance starts at 8:30.

Raymond Neises, who has been in the hospital four weeks with blood poisoning in his hand, is improving. He would welcome cards. His address is Santa Fe Coast Lines Hospital, 610 South St. Louis Street, L. A.

"We are asking for the suggestions of this group," Young said, "in an effort to find the best qualified leadership we can. The support the group is giving us is gratifying and very encouraging."

The steering committee for the campaign, Young said, includes: Mrs. Robert E. Austin, 1165 E. Chase Ave., El Cajon; Mrs. Bert A. Betts, 8145 Palm, Lemon Grove; George Clark, 117 E. ## Throwin' The Bull

By BOB TURNBELL

It's a Joke, Son! . . . After reading the inscriptions on tombstones in a cemetery, you wonder where they bury the sinners.

Summer Doin's . . . Sally Culver, Barbee Scott, Janet Sloan and 26 other feline members of the Hi-Debbers had a ball recently in Hollywood and surrounding areas. They lunched at the Brown Derby, took in the sights at Knott's Berry Farm, saw a pic at Graham's Chinese theatre, and then played it real casual by cruising the tree-lined avenues of Beverly Hills, no less.

Bobbi Hanna, popular Helix lassie with a cozy swimming pool had a quiet but select party last Sunday afternoon. Those there that were swimmin' and funnin' were Jill Sonka and Stu Sloan, Beverly Svalstad, Bonnie Slaten.

Di Curtis, Kathy Body, Everett Oliver and Janet Sloan. Just for the records I'll say that Bobbi's popularity didn't spring up just because she's the proud owner of a giant-wader, her personality is what sells herself to her friends.

While "Caught in the Act" was having its grand showing at the Globe Theatre, several Helix girls made their way down to the aforesaid Shakespearean roundhouse and played the role of ushers. The gals were Lorraine Sawyer, Barbee Scott, Sally Culver, Leilani Rose, Diane Curtis, Janet Sloan and Kay Armstrong.

Dis 'n Dat . . . But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in Heaven forgive your trespasses." (Mark 12:26) . . . More than 1500 students are continuing their brain wrecking and racking ordeals at Helix and Grossmont in summer school. . . . Top tune in the nation is still "Unchained Melody." . . . Remember the "good ole days?" The days when such tunes as "The Music Goes Round and Round" and "Pennsylvania 6500" were considered "real gone" in their specific fields. The tunes might have been a little wierd but at least the words and titles were similar to the King's English. But pick up on some of today's disks: "Blockbuster," "The Dudesack Song," "Hep-Cat Baby," "Smack-Dab in the Middle," "Chee-Chee-O-Chee," "Bazoom," "Tweedle Dee," "Sh-Boom," "Davey Crewcut" and many others. This-crazy-mixed-up-song-minded-world.

Your School Leaders! . . . Myrtle Tilling, Helix vice president, is the first female veep ever chosen. Myrtle is striving to make the student council more efficient by having more and better organized committees, roll call, regularly, and limited discussion. She would also like to organize a student council association of all the Metro League schools.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

It has been said by one of the most widely read authors, ever to have lived:

"How far that little candle throws his beam!

So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

Every day good deeds throw out their beams. Many of these are little noticed except in the heart where the kindness is reflected in happiness.

I cannot think that in Lemon Grove we have a place of darkness where "good deeds" throw no beams. If there are good deeds or kindnesses they are reflected in the lives of the doers, the receivers and even touch on others who may hear about them. However, most good deeds are truly the quietness of the burning candle. They make no noise . . . no discernable noise.

It has come to my mind that a Column of Good would not go unread in our local paper. Kind things happen here as everywhere. Have you ever had a kindness done you and felt so good about it you fairly burst to tell it . . . and then never did because you thought you or the do-gooder might look foolish to some of the more worldly listeners?

There are, I believe, many such cases. So, when I felt there should be such a column, I thought of the many good things that have happened to me. Yes, there are many, but enough to go into a continual column . . . I'm afraid I couldn't fill that bill.

But then, the thought came that if there was a need to hear good, with it there would be a thing to fill that need, and what dovetails more perfectly with the need to hear than the need to tell.

So I ask you readers to write your own column. Remember the kind act done to you by a friend, an acquaintance, perhaps someone you don't even know? It was unsolicited, I am sure, but none the less a good deed, a kind act was unselfishly and wholeheartedly done unto you.

Write now, and light the candle. I'm sure this world is naughtier enough to need the beam it will send out.

The littlest word,

YOUR FAMILY NEEDS A HOME FREEZER

The bear facts are — every enthusiastic sportsman needs a modern Home Freezer for storing the game he's bagged — whether it's bear, deer, duck or quail. And he can use that Freezer for preserving those big ones he brings back from his hunting expeditions.

His wife, who's something of a hunter herself, needs a Home Freezer, too . . . a place to store all the fresh foods, meats, complete frozen meals and frozen food values she can track down on her shopping trips. If she has a Home Freezer she can save herself time, trouble and money ... and, at the same time, prepare better meals for him and the rest of the family.

In this day and age, a Home Freezer is recognized as an important contribution to our high standard of living. "LIFE" IS SUNDAY TEXT
 The thought that God is eternal Life and the source of all true life and being, is emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" in the Christian Science churches Sunday. The Golden Text is from I John (5:11) "This is the record, that God hath given us to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son."
 The Scriptures record, "A certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany. . . . When Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already. . . . And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me. . . . And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. And he that was dead came forth." (John 11:1, 17, 41, 43, 44).

TREASURE TROVE

Poland. She gave up a legal claim to $6 million in jewels. But she chose to live as a commoner in America rather than to risk her life in quest of her fortune by returning to Poland, the brothers explained.

In 1954 the New York Times filed a story, which told of the wealth of art objects, jewels and treasure being held by the Canadian government. This is the treasure to which the Sledzinski brothers are laying claim. Until legal proof can be established, it is possible that the huge fortune will remain in Canadian storage. Here is what the Times had to say:

"The question of ownership of the Polish treasure is being pondered again.

"Both the present communist government of Poland and the exiled successors of the pre-World War II conservative government lay claim to perhaps $25,000,000 worth of objects that have been kept in a vault here for almost seven years.

"The Provincial Government of Quebec, now custodian of the treasure, says it is making no effort to find out who does own the material, awaiting 'Proper court decision.' Meanwhile, neither Polish claimant is taking legal action and the Canadian Federal Government is maintaining its recent hands-off policy.

"Speculation as to developments has been touched off by the treasure's annual inspection this month.

"For three days representatives of the Polish Government-in-exile poked and sorted their way through relics and verified their good condition. Throughout the inspection the basement Archives Section of the Provincial Museum was sealed off, even to regular employees.

"The treasure has never been put on public display or shown to newsmen, although photographs were taken two years ago. The various items belong to the Polish nation, to the Roman Catholic Church of Poland and to Polish noble families. The most famous were exhibited in the Wawel Royal Castle at Cracow.

"The following is part of the treasure:

"The Notched Sword, Szczerbiec, used in coronations of Polish kings since the twelfth century. A jeweled sword, scabbard and belt presented by Pope Innocent XI (1676-86) to the Polish warrior Jan Sobieski.

Two gold clocks, a gold coffee set and Turkish dinner service. One hundred and thirty-six tapestries of gold and silver thread dating to the Middle Ages.

Documents, including the Holy Cross Sermons and the Florian Psalter, and religious parchments dating to the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries.

The oldest known Polish manuscripts.

Original manuscripts by the composer Frederic Chopin. Jeweled batons of legendary Polish commanders, three suits of richly engraved armor and 15 caparisons for war horses, ornamented in gold, silver, and precious stones.

Assorted war relics including swords, helmets and shields.

From Hitler's Attack: The whole cloak-and-dagger affair, which has involved the Provincial Police, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, foreign agents, the Quebec government, the Canadian government and the Polish regime, began with the German invasion of Poland by Hitler on Sept. 1, 1939.

Two Polish professors, Stanislaw Swierz-Zaleski and Joseph Polkowski, appointed national heirloom curators by the then Polish government, hurried the treasure by horse-drawn wagon, barge, army truck and ship to France. When France fell in 1940 they and the treasure moved on to Canada, where it was admitted without inspection or duty.

The treasure was stored on the Dominion Experimental Farm at Ottawa. The Canadian government disclaimed responsibility for it.

On July 16, 1945, the Canadian government, along with the British and American government, recognized the present communist government of Poland.

The displaced conservative Poles, suspecting the new communist regime would seize the treasure, began secretly to look for a new place to store it. Canadian Roman Catholic clergy allowed it to be stored in a convent in Ottawa and in a monastery at Ste. Anne de Beaupre near Quebec. A third hiding place was found in an Ottawa bank and part of the treasure was deposited there under the joint signature of Drs. Swierz-Zaleski and Polkowski.

By 1946 the communist government in Warsaw had learned of the hiding places and demanded that the Canadian government help it to obtain the treasure.

Enter the Mounties

Agents of the exiled Poles hurried to the convent and monastery. A few hours ahead of the communist Poles they gathered up those parts of the treasure and re-hid them in the Hotel Dieu, a Quebec city hospital.

Eventually, in January, 1948, the Mounties, brought into the case by the Canadian govern-

Helen Johannpeter To Wed Clayton Clark

Helen Johannpeter, who manages the dry cleaning shop at 7979 Broadway, is going to be married November 18 at the College Avenue Baptist Church.

She will wed Clayton Clark Jr., a San Diego post office employee.

Miss Johannpeter lives at 3514 40th Street and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Johannpeter of the same address.

Mr. Clark lives with his parents at 6841 Mohawk Street. Plans for a honeymoon have not been completed.

Rev. Bill Rose, Oakland newspaper church editor—"I consider this work a ministry as much as anything else I could do."

ment, discovered this hiding place and put a guard on it pending settlement.

Then the Mother Superior of the hospital asked Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec to intervene. The night of Feb. 24, 1948, 25 provincial policemen in plain clothes went to the hospital. Shortly after dawn, the treasure was loaded into trucks and driven away, while the Mounties, never suspecting the provincial police would meddle in an international argument, kept a routine watch on the hospital's main entrance.

"The treasure from the Hotel Dieu was taken to the vault of the Provincial Museum. The rest of the material is still in the bank in Ottawa.

"In 1949 Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, then Canada's permanent delegate to the United Nations, told the General Assembly that the question of ownership should be settled in Canadian courts."

Until the settlement is made, the Sledzinski brothers plan to continue working at the Naval Hospital and revamping the Lemon Grove home site. About a third of it was taken recently by the highway department which needed it for the new Lemon Grove freeway which slices across the Sledzinski property at the north.

"We didn't need so much land anyhow," the brothers say. "We have three acres left, that is enough."

They are philosophical, too, about their chances for recovering the family fortune.

"Where else but in America could there be a chance for recovery, except by revolution?" they asked.

Troop 251 Holds Mother-Daughter Meeting

Brownie Troop 251, led by Mrs. Robert Pearce and Mrs. Emil Girmus, held a mother and daughter party at 8151 Alton Dr. This was the last meeting of the current Brownie year. The girls performed their flag ceremony, sang "America" and "The Brownie Promise" and gave the Brownie Promise.

Mrs. Girmus thanked the mothers for their cooperation during the past year. Mrs. Pearce offered a prayer, asking God's blessing on the Brownies and their families during the summer months. The remainder of the program was given to songs, dances and recitations, in which each girl participated.

There are 12 girls in this troop. Of these, seven were able to bring their mothers. The mothers present were: Mmes. E. L. Smith, N. E. Weise, A. N. Hill, C. E. Griffith, and Alice Patterson.

CUB PACK 315 HOLDS PICNIC AT HULBURD GROVE

One hundred and seventy-one Cubs, their families and friends gathered at Hulburd Grove Sunday, July 10, for the annual picnic of Cub Scout Pack 315.

A bountiful picnic lunch was served at 1 p.m. Hot dogs, ice cream and punch were furnished by the pack with the parents bringing everything to go with them.

Cubmaster Al Keebler started the afternoon's activities by engaging all of the "moms" in a sack race. Games and races for all age groups followed. Prizes were awarded to the winners and also to the losers.

The committee in charge of refreshments consisted of Al Keebler and Henry Cowles. Those serving on the entertainment committee were Andy Leach, committee chairman; R. C. Alexander and Dick Wrightson, committeemen.

Swimming and horseback riding were also enjoyed by the group.

Everyone left declaring it the best picnic in history.

The regular Pack Meeting of Pack 315 will be held Friday, July 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the La Mesa United Presbyterian Church, 4426 Harbison Ave.

Cubmaster Keebler will conduct a short business meeting.

at 3812 Park Blvd.

Mr. Land has achieved some notoriety in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles art circles for his fine work in oils. Local art lovers have shown great enthusiasm for his current display. Curiously enough Mr. Land's artistry complements the present motion picture "Marty" now showing at the Capri theatre, inasmuch as the picture's story was laid in the same locales as Mr. Land has portrayed his paintings. For a delightfully refreshing sojourn into the world of realism visit the Capri Theatre soon.

Awards will be presented by committee chairman A. W. Leach. Movies will be shown to the Cubs and their visitors.

Two boys will graduate into Scouting. They are Richard Quiggle and George McConnell.

Colors will be presented by Cubs of Den Six Mrs. A. L. Keebler is their Den Mother.

Refreshments will be served by the parents of Cubs in Dens Eight and Nine. Mrs. C. Byarley and Mrs. W. Turpie are the den mothers of these two dens.

(The editor loves Mmes. Ralph Brehl and H. K. Thurlund.)

Dear Mr. Goodwin:

How the world is shrinking! You recently received a letter from Grafiska Maskin Aktiebolaget, a leading Swedish printing press manufacturer, telling you about the VIKING line of high speed automatic cylinder presses, and arrangements for a free round trip flight to Sweden, via London.

In London, England, the GMA presses will be on demonstration for leading printers from all parts of the world during the International Printing Equipment Show. Enclosed you will find a business reply envelope which we hope you will use to request additional information.

Sincerely yours,
Dan Fisher

Executive Vice President
(What a sneaking way to try to sell a press.)

Dear Max:

Your recent note asks "what happened" to the Branch Administrative Center plan. It was adopted. Lemon Grove is firmly in it, the board of supervisors has acted on several items—El Cajon, Escondido, and Oceanside, and has told us to find a site in Encinitas. However, the board has not told us to find a site in Vista, Lemon Grove, Ramona, Borrego or Jacumba. Until it does, there will be no follow-up action in any of those communities.

I am sure that none of this is news to you, but here it is for the record!

Best regards,
Willis H. Miller
Director of Planning

(What ever happened to those grand community zoning plans we were all so enthused about last year?)

Dear Mr. Goodwin:

Members of the executive board of the Business Women's League

have become quite concerned over the danger to Lemon Grove children from a person who frequents local stores and exposes himself to small children who happen to be in the stores.

In attempting to reach a practical solution to this problem, the executive board decided to seek your help by asking you to write an article in an early issue of the Review warning parents of the operations of this man and advising them to supervise closely their children's shopping.

Board members thought this might be an appropriate time to remind parents again of the dangers of allowing youngsters to accept rides.

We know your ability to stir up people's interest in a subject, and shall be grateful for your assistance.

(Not only will we aid and assist, but it should be reassuring to know that the sheriff's department is moving in on this person whose address is known.)

You can see the change in pace pitches they serve up in this league. When you pay your visit to the community newspaper office and stop to have a chat with the editor and find him either in the spirit of elation, or grumpy as grandma on washday, you can almost guess what kind of letter he just got through reading.

of the world during the International Printing Equipment Show. Enclosed you will find a business reply envelope which we hope you will use to request additional information.

Sincerely yours,
Dan Fisher

Executive Vice President
(What a sneaking way to try to sell a press.)

Dear Max:

Your recent note asks "what happened" to the Branch Administrative Center plan. It was adopted. Lemon Grove is firmly in it, the board of supervisors has acted on several items—El Cajon, Escondido, and Oceanside, and has told us to find a site in Encinitas. However, the board has not told us to find a site in Vista, Lemon Grove, Ramona, Borrego or Jacumba. Until it does, there will be no follow-up action in any of those communities.

I am sure that none of this is news to you, but here it is for the record!

Best regards,
Willis H. Miller
Director of Planning

(What ever happened to those grand community zoning plans we were all so enthused about last year?)

Dear Mr. Goodwin:

Members of the executive board of the Business Women's League

have become quite concerned over the danger to Lemon Grove children from a person who frequents local stores and exposes himself to small children who happen to be in the stores.

In attempting to reach a practical solution to this problem, the executive board decided to seek your help by asking you to write an article in an early issue of the Review warning parents of the operations of this man and advising them to supervise closely their children's shopping.

Board members thought this might be an appropriate time to remind parents again of the dangers of allowing youngsters to accept rides.

We know your ability to stir up people's interest in a subject, and shall be grateful for your assistance.

LEVIS AND LACES TO START NEW BEGINNERS CLASS

Mrs. Mabel White announced this week that she is planning an additional class for beginners in Junior Square Dance instruction.

Thursday, July 14 at 1:30 in the Woman's Club at 2810 Main Street, registrations will be taken for a new class to start very shortly. This class will be for children from eight years through 12 years of age. Children who have not yet reached their eighth birthday will not be accepted.

Mrs. White stated that it is with regret that she has been forced to cancel all classes for children under eight years. The committee of Levis and Laces members who have been handling the Junior Square Dance classes felt that children under eight were not able to keep up with the instruction and that it would be far more practical to concentrate on the eight to 12 group.

Announcement will be forthcoming soon of a date for a party dance, to be held during the month of August. Parents and friends of the young dancers will be invited to come and join the fun.

L. G. Review July 14 and 21, 1955

CHURCH BUILDING DECISION DUE AT POTLUCK LUNCHEON

The members of the First Congregational Church of Lemon Grove are urged to attend a meeting next Sunday at 12 noon in Friendship Hall, for a potluck lunch and a chance to vote on a recommendation offered by the Building Council, according to Art Thomas, chairman of the Building Council of the First Congregational Church.

The Building Council is recommending that the church employ The Wells Organization, a professional church-fund-raising group, to conduct a building fund campaign for a new sanctuary. Goal of the campaign, according to Forrest Baxter, chairman of the finance committee of the Building Council, is $187,000, to be pledged and paid into the building fund in the next three years. The Wells Organization will, if the recommendation is accepted by the church members at the July 17 meeting, sign a contract with the church and insure the collection of not less than $132,000 in building fund pledges.

Preliminary architectural estimates prepared for the board of trustees of the church by Paderewski, Mitchell, and Dean, architects, show that a new sanctuary, if started as soon as possible and completed by Easter, 1957, would cost between $130,000 and $170,000, depending on various options of style, material, and construction. Plans for the building are still tentative, according to Byron Netzeley, chairman of the architectural committee of the Building Council.

ST. PHILIP'S CHOIR PICNICS AT BIG OAK RANCH

The Junior Choir of St. Philip's enjoyed a picnic and swim at Big Oak Ranch Wednesday, shepherded by Mrs. F. J. Attaway, Mrs. Charles Foster, and the vicar, the Rev. J. Phillip Bartlett.

The Woman's Auxiliary plans a card party to be held later in the month.

MRS. PAUL IS ADVISOR FOR HONOLULU-BOUND YOUNGSTERS

A Lemon Grove woman will make a trip to Honolulu as an advisor for a YMCA sponsored event in which 25 San Diego county youths take part.

The woman, Mrs. Willard M. Paul, 3314 Fairway Drive, Brookside, left this week from Wilmington aboard the S. S. President Wilson.

The tour will "combine adventure and education" according to H. A. Christman, Y tour director. "It gives teenagers an opportunity to meet interesting people their own age as well as adults who have done important things."

Mrs. Paul will return late this month by air. Her husband will be in Europe while she is in Honolulu. He is an employee of the Flying Tiger group. Their two children, Shaula 10, and Billy 8, will stay in Lemon Grove while the parents are away.

AUXILIARY GETTING SET FOR GROSSMONT HOSPITAL OPENING

Many homes in the nine areas that make up the Grossmont Hospital Women's Auxiliary, have been humming with work for the soon-to-be-opened Grossmont Community Hospital—not only homes of auxiliary members, but those of other friends of the hospital, as well. Surgical towels have been hemmed by the tens of dozens; scores of T binders and infant shirts made; pack wraps and glove wraps constructed; hospital linens and blankets marked.

This activity, accelerated by the imminence of the hospital's opening, has been inspired and directed by the auxiliary's energetic sewing committee, of which Mrs. John Terhorst, La Mesa, is chairman, and Mrs. Robert Cloyes, El Cajon, co-chairman.

Each area is represented on the sewing committee; such representative acting in turn as sewing chairman for her own area, organizing sewing bees and enlisting the cooperation of local individuals and groups who wish to do sewing for the hospital.

HYPNOSIS TO BE SUBJECT OF COLLEGE LECTURE

Hypnosis, the fight against disease, and modern physics will be the topic of the fifth week of the free science lecture series at San Diego State College July 19-21.

Tuesday Dr. Roy M. Dorcus will describe "Hypnosis and its Therapeutic Applications." He is a professor of psychology and Dean of Division of Life Sciences, UCLA.

"Recent Developments in Modern Physics" will be discussed Wednesday by Dr. Charles L. Critchfield of the University of Minnesota, now at Convar. His main work has been in theories and investigations of nuclear reactions and forces, nuclear theory and stellar energy. A mathematician, he is a consultant to the Theoretical Division of the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory. He has directed the cosmic ray research project at Minnesota and was scientific director of the High Altitude Balloon Project.

"Antigens, Antibodies and Antibiotics" will be the Thursday topic of Dr. Morris J. Pickett, associate professor of bacteriology, UCLA, who will discuss the foreign invaders causing allergies, the body substances fighting them and the antibiotics used as cures.

The free series of 18 summer lectures are held at 7:30 p.m. in Science 101 on the campus and are open to the public.

These members are: Mmes. Mike Libert, Alpine; H. M. Miller, Lakeside; W. W. Rebley, Fletcher Hills; D. M. Walker, Grossmont; Bruce Harms, La Mesa; George Conrey, Lemon Grove; William Higbie, Spring Valley; R. A. McDonald, Jamul; and Miss Gail Durbin, El Cajon.

Church Sponsored Booklet to List Recreational Facilities

A new booklet, a Family Guide to Outdoor Recreational Facilities in the Greater San Diego Area, will soon go on sale to members and friends of the First Congregational Church of Lemon Grove, according to Clarence Allen, chairman of the Social Action committee of the church.

The Social Action committee has listed in convenient booklet form the main county, city-county, state, and federal picnic and campsite areas which are within easy driving distance of the San Diego area. Each campsite is named, located, and described as to facilities and characteristics. The booklet is intended to encourage group and family outings by revealing the possibilities for recreation in the camps and picnic areas described. The work of compiling the information was undertaken by the Social Action committee as a social service directed toward better family life and more family togetherness. The booklet will sell for ten cents a copy.

NEW MEMBERS FOR TRINITY CHURCH

Betty and Lloyd Fountain, Maxine and Paul Hoover, Mrs. E. Whitehurst and her daughter, Merry May, were all welcomed into the family of the Trinity Presbyterian Church Sunday.

A work party will be held Saturday, July 16, and anyone who wishes to help clean up the ground is welcome. Bring hoe and rake and trowel!

Sheree North, Hollywood actress—"My dances really aren't bumps and grinds. I'm just nervous."

POWDER-PUFF FLYERS TO BE GUESTS OF BUSINESS WOMEN

Mrs. R. S. McCrae, well known local aviatrix, who recently participated in the Powder Puff Derby, and her co-pilot, Mrs. H. E. McNeil of La Mesa, will be honor guests at the August dinner meeting of the Business Women's League of Lemon Grove. Mrs. McCrae is an honorary member of the league. This announcement was made at the regular meeting held Thursday, July 8 at Michael's.

Mrs. Calvin Nicholl, president, presided during the business session when the various chairmen gave routine reports on their committees.

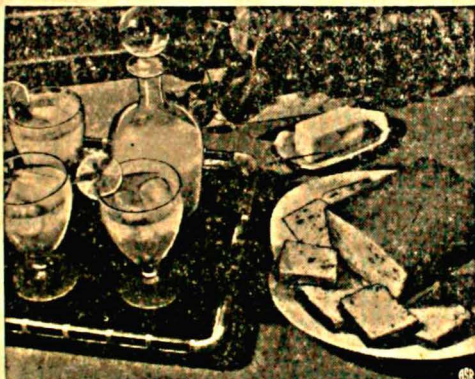

The Lemon Grove Recreation Committee, represented by Mrs. C. Roy Adams of the league, reported a serious lack of funds for the important and vitally necessary program planned for the summer months in this area.

Cotton and jeans will be the proper attire for the Fall Party planned for the league membership by Mrs. Grant Hadley, social chairman, and her committee. The tentative date is September 24.

Mrs. Kenneth Conrad was welcomed as a new member of the group.

Mrs. Richard Dee Vee, So. S. F. mother and truck driver—"People think that if you drive a truck you have to be rough. I think you can be a lady no matter what you do."

Any Time Of Day Snack

Tall, icy glasses of refreshing fruit juice served with slices of buttered Apple Sauce Nutbread mean a delightful pause on a hot day. It's a combination of note to serve the morning neighbor drop-ins, afternoon family get-togethers or after a bridge game in the evening.

Keep several cans and bottles of fruit juice in the refrigerator—pineapple, grapefruit, orange, cranberry, apple, nectar or any of your favorites. Serve one or a combination iced, with ginger ale, or topped with fruit sherbet.

Apple Sauce Nutbread

What's Yours, Medium, Rare or Well Done?

This compact, easy-to-manage charcoal grill that barbecues, broils and fries with some 40 percent less fuel consumption than flat grills will come in mighty handy these summer nights. Our outdoor grill, popular model and TV actress Pat Hall, says it's easy to cook and prepare an outdoor meal for four or more persons on the "Grill-Well" which is equipped with fire-box and fire-box lid made from Wheeling expanded metal.

raise rabbits for meat and money

Every year we get a lot of requests for help from people who want to raise rabbits. Generally they're pretty much surprised to learn these facts about the rabbit business:

① Six does can produce 600-700 lbs. of delicious white meat each year! Yes, a backyard operation of this size can provide most of the meat for an average family.

② Rabbits are easy to keep and care for. Modern feed milling has taken the guesswork out of feeding rabbits. Purina Rabbit Checkers, for example, are ready to feed right out of the bag.

③ Little space required—This is an important factor, especially to youngsters. Many of the most successful rabbit projects are backyard operations.

WE'LL HELP YOU GET STARTED

If you're interested in growing rabbits for meat or money we'll be happy to put you in touch with a source for good breeding stock.

Also we have a wonderful 40-page Purina Publication that gives you all the facts about rabbit raising. It's yours for the asking. Stop by soon.

CONFERENCE FOR SCHOOL PEOPLE SET AT STATE COLLEGE

The eleventh summer Guidance Conference will be held at San Diego State College July 18 to 22.

Nine speakers and 17 panelists will follow the conference theme, "Getting Up to Date in Guidance." Topics for the day will be teamwork approach in guidance, case conference, guidance in the elementary school, guidance for the exceptional child, professional training and credential requirements and the forward look in guidance.

Designed to assist teachers, counselors and administrators to increase their understanding and competence in the field of student personnel, the conference is planned cooperatively with the City and County Schools. It is representative of the San Diego cludes lectures, demonstration, a tour of Juvenile Hall and panel presentations with emphasis upon group discussion.

The week-long course will be held from 9 a.m. to 11:40 a.m. and 1:35 p.m. to 2:50 p.m. daily. It offers one unit and may be taken three times for credit.

FORMER CALEXICANS TO MEET

The fourth annual picnic of former Calalexicans will be held Sunday, July 31 at Sixth and Palm Streets, San Diego. Some 400 are expected to attend.

Fair and Cooler

This fair miss out for a cruise on the bay will have no problem keeping cool.

Aside from the breezes, she's carrying her own refrigerator—to keep sandwiches fresh, drinks cold, milk chilled. It'll keep the steaks fresh, salads crisp all day.

And if they bring home some fresh-caught fish, the refrigerator will keep them fresher-fresh right to your door.

Greatest summer utility since air conditioning, one quart can equals 15 pounds of ice. Just freeze to reuse. No water, odor or mess, it keeps food cooler than ice can keep it. Sells for under a dollar; wonderful for picnics, outings, motoring.

This summer you'll probably be having fish more often. There are more varieties available every place now, frozen, fresh, or canned, and there are ever so many ways to prepare and serve this tender, nutritious food. Since fish is usually bland, it needs a zesty garnish, and one of the best taste additions is the citrus family. Now that both canned and frozen Florida grapefruit sections are available here and so economical, team these two good buys and enjoy grapefruit in a new role.

Just heated through, you'll find juicy frozen Florida grapefruit sections perk up the flavor of fish. And, lest the thought of a broiled fish dinner deter you, try the newest trick with aluminum foil; spread a sheet of it over your broiler rack, place fish on the foil, and when you've finished cooking, simply wrap up the foil and discard—no greasy mess to clean up!

To prepare fish:

Use fresh or frozen fillets or 1 1/4-inch thick steaks or split medium fish. Place fish on aluminum foil on broiler pan. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with paprika. Place in broiler 2 inches below medium heat. Broil until fish is easily flaked and moist, 10 to 12 minutes for fillets, 8 minutes on each side for steaks and five minutes on each side for split fish. Three minutes before fish is cooked, place grapefruit sections on top; continue broiling until fish is cooked.
